Centre

WHAT IS SEX WORK?

Sex work is the provision of sexual services or performances by one person (person who sells sex) for which a second person (Client or Observer) provides money or other markers of economic value.

These markers of economic value may include:

- Money
- Food
- Shelter
- Drugs & More

SEX WORK IS AN UMBRELLA TERM INCLUSIVE OF:

- Trade Sex
- Porn Performance
- Dancing
- Phone
- Webcam/Internet
- Survival-based
- Street-based
- BDSM
- Magazine
- Film/Video Out
- Out Calls / In Calls & More

SEX WORK CAN BE LICIT OR ILLICIT

Sex work involves a Worker, Consumer and oftentimes, a manager. In situations of illicit sex work, risk is involved for all three parties.

WHY DO PEOPLE ENGAGE IN SEX WORK?

MONEY

Julia chooses to perform on Only Fans because the work is profitable, and she enjoys it. Julia chooses to sell sex.

CIRCUMSTANCE

Mark is marginally housed and engages in a relationship with Peter to have a place to sleep. Mark's sex work is circumstantial.

COERCION

Leah's partner coerces her into trading sex with their supplier in exchange for drugs, even though she doesn't want to.

This is a human rights violation and not the same as consensual sex work.

SEX WORK IS WORK

Everyone who engages in sex work has personal, unique reasons for doing so.

Sex work is one of the few trades in which someone without any formal education can provide for themselves at an equal level to someone with an advanced degree.

However, sex workers who hold marginalised identities are uniquely vulnerable to racism, transphobia, xenophobia, classism, and other forms of structural violence.

DON'T ASSUME!

Don't try to "save" anyone from sex work.

SUPPORT

For women: <https://beyondthestreets.org.uk/>

Beyond the streets is a charity that works with women involved in the UK sex industry. They work to see women safe from coercion, violence, and abuse. They collaborate to ensure women are not compelled to sell sex and to create routes out of prostitution by working with others including those with lived experience. Together they work to challenge the stigma that surrounds the sale of sex, to eliminate "survival sex" and more broadly to end violence against women and girls.

For Men: <https://ourroom.org.uk/about-us/>

The Men's Room is an arts and social charity that works creatively to empower men. They support male sex workers, homeless men and men involved in the criminal justice system. They offer them opportunities to get involved in high quality arts projects whilst accessing one to one support for challenges they face in their everyday lives. Their work engages young men experiencing multiple disadvantages, including homeless men, sex workers, men with experience of sexual exploitation, offenders, and men struggling with mental health problems and substance misuse. Their work with artists on a diverse range of projects throughout the year, whilst also offering outreach services and personalised support to their service users.

For all: <https://nationaluglymugs.org/>

NUM is a UK-wide charity working with sex workers to do research, design and deliver safety tools and to provide support services to people in adult industries.
